GCR 100 Ranks Davies as Elite Canadian Firm for 17th Straight Year

Davies is once again listed as an Elite Canadian Firm in the Global Competition Review (GCR) 100, the highest category awarded in the jurisdiction and a distinction the firm has held since Canada was first included in the rankings. GCR 100 is a comprehensive listing of the world's preeminent competition practices and our continued inclusion in their rankings is a reflection of the trust our clients place in us.

Davies acts in some of the most high-profile and complex transactions and competition litigation matters, as well as in the majority of competition class actions in Canada. Notable recent examples include acting for Blackstone in its US$3.5-billion take-private acquisition of Tricon Residential Inc.; Canadian Real Estate Association (CREA) in a proposed class action commenced in the Federal Court of Canada, challenging the commission structure of residential real estate; and Google in the Competition Bureau's ongoing online display advertising investigation.

The GCR 100 rankings are based on reputation, recent work and experience, as determined via extensive research and client review. The rankings affirm that Davies' Competition, Antitrust and Foreign Investment team comprises some of the most highly regarded lawyers in the field.
