Davies Infrastructure Practice

On significant public-private partnership (PPP) projects across Canada and the United States, we bring the necessary skills and experience to guide complex agreements successfully to financial close. From water supply and treatment projects in the United States to nearly all of Canada's light rail transit ventures, we have unparalleled experience delivering PPP firsts. Public and private sector clients count on us to help them keep projects on track, meet deadlines and stay within budget.

Cutting edge public infrastructure deals call for sophisticated expertise across a range of legal disciplines. We build the ideal team for each project, drawing on our deep talent in corporate, capital markets, project finance, commercial real estate, environmental, tax and mergers and acquisitions.
