Too Much Market Power in Capital Markets Act – Financial Post, National Post

In an opinion piece in the Financial Post, Davies Partners Patricia Olasker and Mindy Gilbert detail their concerns with the proposed Capital Markets Act. Olasker and Gilbert urge Canada's business and legal communities to "pay close attention to the Capital Markets Act," which they state "will be disruptive to well-established transaction mechanics and compliance practices and will impose significant costs on market participants to adapt to a new regime."
