

Julia Munteanu

Student

Montréal

Law School

Université de Montréal

Julia believes great lawyers should have a strong understanding of the way people think and make decisions, which she studied in great depth as a psychology student.

Litigation appeals to Julia because of the wide range of opportunities it would provide to utilize her creative and problem-solving abilities, her interest in writing and researching and her advocacy skills.

Is there something about you that we would be surprised to learn?

I have an excellent memory. I can recall entire pages of text word for word, top to bottom, without losing a single detail.

What experience, job or internship have you learned the most from or found most rewarding?

Participating in Model UN gave me a deeper understanding of world issues and a stronger sense of global awareness, plus the chance to interact with many different people, learn in a cooperative setting and enhance my creativity.

What skill would you like to learn and why?

Sign language. It makes communication easier, enables deeper connections and facilitates mutual understanding.
