David’s experience as a judicial law clerk at the Court of Appeal for Ontario informs his approach to litigation.

David has assisted with capital market transactions and drafting a variety of applications and briefs. He has also contributed research for civil litigation and white collar defence files. At the Court of Appeal, he clerked for Justice Eileen E. Gillese, Justice Bradley W. Miller and Justice Jill M. Copeland.

Before law school, David co-founded and grew a national non-profit devoted to countering hate and extremism. Prior to joining Davies, he was in the Canadian Forces Primary Reserves and worked at a Toronto criminal law firm during his final year of law school.
