Clients turn to Elliot for his keen business sense and his ability to find novel solutions to complex problems.

Elliot represents Canadian and international private equity firms, as well as market-leading companies – both public and private – in their mergers and acquisitions, financings, private equity and venture capital deals, and licensing transactions. A strategic and experienced adviser, Elliot is regularly called upon by clients to act on their business-critical transactions. Elliot's graduate degrees in both business and science give him a unique perspective on corporate matters, including intellectual property and information technology. As a result, he is frequently asked to provide counsel on complex business and legal issues for high tech, life science and retail companies.

Elliot is a member of the firm's Management Committee and was previously the coordinator of the Corporate practice group in our Montréal office, as well as a member of our Talent Management and Professional Development committees. Elliot serves as co-chair of the International Private Equity and Venture Capital Committee of the Business Law Section of the American Bar Association.
