Tax Disputes

Bar Admissions
Ontario, 2025

Joshua’s practice focuses on domestic and cross-border tax disputes.

Joshua has assisted clients on all aspects of tax controversies, from audit through litigation. Prior to joining Davies, he practised at the Montréal office of a national law firm.

Joshua completed a clerkship at the Federal Court of Appeal, where he was hired to clerk for Chief Justice Noël and, after the Chief Justice’s retirement, clerked for Justice Goyette. In law school, he clerked for Justice Rogers at the Superior Court of Québec and served as a research assistant for Professor Christians.
