"Technology, properly vetted and effectively rolled out, helps make the library a key partner in our legal practice. By leveraging the right research and current awareness tools that use AI, our library team delivers comprehensive, up-to-the-minute information to our lawyers to support them in serving clients."

Katarina brings a passion for technological solutions as well as experience working in both law firm and academic environments to her role as Research Lawyer, Library Services Lead. Together with the library team, Katarina helps keep our lawyers informed on legislative changes and trends and developments affecting clients' businesses and industries, while continually seeking out new tools that ensure the library provides maximum value.

Lawyers consult Katarina for her deep expertise in legal research. She also provides research and prompting training for our students and newly hired lawyers. She speaks regularly on topics at the intersection of legal research and technology.
