Pauline applies a creative approach to dispute resolution.

Pauline is a litigator who has assisted clients in a range of complex matters, including in civil, commercial and white-collar law. She has also been involved in class action defence – including in the areas of securities and consumer protection. She has represented a diverse local and international clientele, including companies in the aerospace, retail, energy and technology sectors, before all levels of court in Québec.

Prior to her practice in litigation, Pauline worked as a law clerk for the Honourable Justice Mélanie Hébert at the Criminal and Penal Division of the Court Of Québec – an experience that provided her with an in-depth understanding of the inner workings of the judicial system.
