"Effective communication bridges the gap between expertise and understanding. Our goal is to ensure every message reaches the right audience with clarity and impact."

As Director of Marketing & Communications, Stéphanie oversees the firm's internal and external communications strategies across its offices in Montréal, Toronto and New York. Drawing on extensive experience in goal setting, process optimization and strategic planning, she ensures the delivery of impactful marketing campaigns that elevate the Davies brand. She fosters a supportive and collaborative environment within the communications team, ensuring efficiency and continuous development.

Prior to her career in legal marketing, Stéphanie held various leadership positions in the hospitality industry in the United Kingdom.
