More About Me

What surprised you most about Davies during the interview process?

I was surprised how open and friendly everyone at the firm was. Often times you see people describe the culture of large firms as ultracompetitive. This was certainly not the case, even during the interview process I felt as if I was part of the firm. From the moment you walk out of the elevator you could see the high level of collegiality.

What are you most looking forward to during your time at Davies?

I am looking forward to learning from some of Canada’s leading lawyers in their fields. Getting to work with such a talented group of people is an exciting opportunity to grow, develop my skills and gain meaningful insight into the practice of law.

Whom do you most admire?

My grandfather. His story of moving to Guyana alone to work in the restaurant industry, then moving his family to Barbados and starting his own restaurant and then retiring in Canada has been very inspiring to me. It has shown me that hard work and determination are key factors in achieving success, no matter where you begin. His journey reminds me that taking risks, staying committed to your goals and making sacrifices for the people you love can lead to a fulfilling and meaningful life.
