More About Me

What surprised you most about Davies during the interview process?

What surprised me most was how great of a time I had! The conversations flowed naturally, the people were genuine and I felt like I could be myself throughout the process. That made it very easy to picture myself working here.

If you were not a lawyer, what career would you have chosen?

I can't imagine myself doing anything else. After taking my first law course during undergrad, everything fell into place and I've never doubted for a second that this is the right path for me.

What fictional character do you identify most with?

Hermione Granger. She's curious, detail-oriented and genuinely cares about understanding things deeply. I relate to her tendency to take things seriously and want to get them right, as well as her loyalty and willingness to support the people around her.
