More About Me

If you were not a lawyer, what career would you have chosen?

If not for law, I would have become a high school teacher. While tutoring, I discovered how rewarding and profoundly noble the act of sharing knowledge can be. Contributing to the education of high school students would have brought me immense satisfaction.

Is there a skill you would like to learn?

I would like to be multilingual. I already speak three languages, but I would like to master five or six. Learning languages is a fascinating experience. Each language is a logical system, akin to an intricate puzzle waiting to be decoded. Moreover, languages open doors to the world, help us understand diverse cultures and allow us to see things from new perspectives.

Is there something about you that we would be surprised to learn?

I am a black belt in karate, a distinction I earned three years ago after seven years of hard work and determination. Karate, like all martial arts, is a unique discipline that shapes both the body and mind.
