DAVIES

Raphael Jean-Pierre
Student

Office
Montréal

Tel
514.841.6400

Raphael's studies in management and entrepreneurship taught him how organizations function and how strategic decisions are made, which he looks forward to seeing in practice.

Education

Université Laval

Law School

McGill University

More About Me

What myth about Davies would you want to dispel?

The notion that Davies looks for one specific type of personality or background. After speaking with a few lawyers at the firm, it became clear just how diverse their experiences are. There is no single mold – just a shared commitment to excellence.

Why are you interested in practising law?

I am drawn to the practice of law for its intellectual rigour and the opportunity to apply creative thinking to complex problems. I'm deeply curious about how businesses operate and evolve, and I look forward to helping clients navigate legal and strategic challenges with insight and precision.

Which fictional character do you identify most with?

Phileas Fogg from Around the World in Eighty Days – a model of composure, strategic thinking and resourcefulness. He moves through the world with calm determination, yet never lets ambition compromise his integrity or compassion. Like Fogg, I believe a cool head, a clear plan and a bit of creativity go a long way.