"We provide lawyers with the tools, resources and research to handle our clients' matters efficiently and effectively."

As Senior Director of Innovation and Knowledge Management, Tania leads the firm's national legal innovation strategy and oversees the knowledge management and library functions in the Montréal office. She leads a national team of innovation professionals, as well as the knowledge management and library teams in Montréal.

Working closely with firm management and practising lawyers across offices, she sets strategic priorities for legal technology and AI initiatives and oversees the identification, testing and implementation of new practice-specific technologies and solutions.

She also leads efforts to capture and leverage the firm's intellectual capital, collaborating nationally and overseeing the implementation of knowledge management initiatives in Montréal. She works closely with lawyers and practice groups to develop tools, processes and resources that support their knowledge management needs, including precedents and collections.

Before joining Davies, Tania worked at a national law firm in knowledge management and as corporate transactional lawyer. She combines her experience as a practising lawyer with her passion for the business and practice of law, as well as innovation.
