Clients appreciate Tom’s practical and business-oriented approach to negotiations.

Tom advises on financing and commercial matters in connection with large private-public partnership projects in Canada and the United States. He is also active with bid-procurement on the financing-legal work stream. He has regularly represented domestic and foreign lenders, equity sponsors and corporations in connection with complex debt transactions.

Prior to joining Davies, Tom worked at a prominent Canadian law firm and then served as Associate-Vice President, Legal at a multinational company recognized as a global leader in civil engineering, public-private partnerships and major infrastructure development.
